

Environmental policy

The day we cease getting better is the day we stop being good!

Environmental issues are an integral part of LEAX Falun's daily business where we design and assemble Propeller Shaft, manufacture and assemble transmission components. We comply with legal requirements and work with continuous development of methods to protect the environment, prevent pollution and be a good example in the environmental work for our employees and other stakeholders.

We continuously reduce our environmental impact by working for the national environmental goals, focusing on the following two objectives:

Non-Toxic environmental

By regularly checking the company's chemical use and acquire knowledge of health and environmental injuries, LEAX Falun will contribute to the national goal.

Limited climate impact

By using energy-efficient solutions and follow up our climate impact, we will reduce our environmental footprint.
