

LEAX Group is a manufacturer of mechanical components and subsystems for the heavy vehicle industry, mining and construction industries and other engineering industries. We are a fast growing, privately owned, business group with its origin in Sweden. We have a turnover of more than SEK 1,5 billion on a yearly basis and are about 1200 employees. The company has operations in Sweden, Latvia, Brazil, Germany, Hungary and China. LEAX Group is now gearing up to continue our growth and are planning to further increase the turnover to SEK 2,5 billion until 2020. Therefore, we are now looking for talented, creative and result driven persons to join our company.

LEAX Skaraborg is recruiting a new Site Manager for the Falköping site!

We offer a variety of work in a growing international group of LEAX companies that manufacture components on a contractual basis.

Main Job Responsibilities

As Site Manager you will be an important part of LEAX development where you have the overall responsibility for operational and strategic work within LEAX Skaraborg Falköping Site towards future goals. As Site Manager you will be responsible for developing the company's future strategy and to continuously implement and follow up the business strategy. You are also an important part of LEAX future development as a global supplier to demanding customers.

You will report directly to the Business Area Manager for Engine and Transmission. You will be based in Falköping. You have colleagues at other LEAX sites within LEAX Group around the world as well as customers and suppliers mainly in Europe, so some traveling is expected in your role. Your main tasks are;

- Develop, coordinate and drive the work with the company's strategy and future goals;
- Lead, develop and coach the company's management team that together are responsible for the company's operational management;
- Be a part of LEAX Group's development by contributing with your personal skills and development of LEAX Skaraborg (Falköping Site);
- Work as the main contact of LEAX Skaraborg, Falköping Site in general issues towards customers and suppliers;
- Participate in LEAX Group global network within your responsibility.

Your experiences

- Suitable background is technical or economic degree with several years of experience as a leader in the automotive or machining industry;
- Experience to develop strategic and operational objectives at management team level;
- Experience of working with financial indicators and operational control;
- Business driven and great leadership skills developed from earlier entrepreneurship experiences.

Who are you?

- Well organized and able to work successfully on your own or in a team;
- LEAX is a value-based company and therefore require from you as a person to be willing to take initiative within given limits and drive your own work and development;
- Operational interested and want to be visible in the organization;
- Proven track record from similar position;
- You write and speak English and Swedish fluently. Other languages are an advantage.
- The position is based in Falköping.
- For the right person there is great potential to be developed together with the company and get more responsibility and participation in our exciting journey building the global company.

Questions about the role may be directed to BA Manager Engine and Transmission,
Joakim Sandberg (+46 70 3403154)

We are continuously selecting and interviewing and encourage you to apply as soon as possible to hr.leaxquality@leax.com, but latest 14 February . Mark your application with "Site Manager Falköping".

We kindly decline to be contacted by staffing, recruitment agencies and vendors of job announcements for this recruitment.